Case of Mrs. Emma J. Chappell, Slayer of Husband, Closes; Arguments End Today.

SHOOTING DETAILS RELATED TO JURY

Stepdaughter of Woman Is Principal Witness in Case Involving Her Father's Death.

The fate of Mrs. Emma J. Chappell, charged with the murder of her husband, J. Henry Chappell, who was shot and almost instantly killed on the front steps of the Center Hill home on the night of October 12, will rest with a jury in Judge Virlyn B. Moore's division of Fulton superior court shortly before noon today.

Evidence was completed shortly after 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon when rebuttal began. The court recessed at 5:30 until 6 o'clock when an argument by the state and one for the defense was heard.

The defense closed its case with the defendant's statement. She began her testimony by relating her married life with Chappell and told of arguments and numerous threats she said he made against her life. She said that she constantly feared for her life and the lives of her four daughters. On one occasion, she said, Chappell beat the children with a buggy whip after she had refused to have anything to do with liquor she said he had brought home to sell. Seizures were frequent, she said, but he would always promise her to leave whisky alone and she would go back to him.

Night of Tragedy.

"On the night of the shooting," Mrs. Chappell said, "my husband came home in a bad mood and entered the middle room where his daughter, Mary, was in bed. Following supper he went out in the back to feed the hogs and when I did not assist him he began cursing me."

When he returned to the house, Mary told him that he had been fussing all day. He flew into a rage and began cursing and arguing about me sending one of the children to town. He hit me and grabbed me by the throat and began choking me. Mary jumped out of bed and said, 'Don't do that.' He stopped, then said, 'I'm going to kill her.' I went into the middle bedroom and picked up the pistol.

He followed me out on the front porch and when I looked around I saw that he was going to grab me. I saw that he was going to grab me and tried to get away from him. I ran across the street and held the pistol under my arm and fired.

"He said, 'Emma, you have shot me.'

"I said, 'Yes, and you made me do it.'

"I helped him to get back upon the porch and laid him down. You shot me in the tongue," he said. After I had bathed his face with water I saw where the bullet hit him in the chin.

"Mary began screaming when the shot was fired and rushed to the telephone for the police. When they came I told them all about it.

"I am sorry that I have to tell this but my husband abused me from Chicago, January 27.—The eclipse of Saturn by the moon will occur Friday morning promptly at 5:40 central standard time and will extend until 7:15 a.m., the first eclipse since August, 1916, when the moon and Saturn closed orbits.

"Saturn is 966,000,000 miles away from the earth," Professor Philip Fox, head of the Northwestern university observatory, said, "while the moon is comparatively near."

THURSDAY NIGHT

Unmasked White Men Raid Service Station, While Negroes Sweep Down on Stores.

Five boldly staged holdups and burglaries in various sections of the city Thursday night kept police busy, while a number of petty burglaries were reported. Four of the holdups were staged by two negroes while the fifth was executed by two young, unmasked, white men.

Working quietly and leisurely, the two young white men entered the Gulf Refining service station at 117 Luckie street, Thursday night in full view of passing motorists and pedestrians, and bound the manager and his helper and escaped with their loot.

The same men entered quietly and ordered J. L. Shepherd, of 408 West Tenth street, manager, and his negro helper, Henry Johnson, of 69 Harden street, to put up their hands. While one kept them at bay with his pistol the second bound them together with a piece of rope.

Shoving their captives into a back room the pair rifled the cash drawer of $18 in money and escaped in an automobile. Shepherd and the negro freed themselves and called police. Call Officers W. A. Adair and George B. Lee found no trace of the pair.

FANS ARE SPECULATING ON FUTURE OF STARS.

New York, January 27.—What clubs will Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker join, since their respective owners, the Detroit Tigers and the Cleveland Indians, do not want them?

Baseball fans were presented tonight with as fascinating a guessing contest as ever helped to while away a winter league session.

Here are some facts and possibilities for the fans to juggle with:

1—Clark Griffith, president of the Washington club, wired Tris Speaker, offering the former star manager a job with the Senators for 1927 at "any reasonable salary."

2—Ty Cobb may go to St. Louis to play with the Browns under his old friend and former assistant, Dan Howley. Speaker may go back to Boston, scene of his early triumphs, the displacement of the Browns possibly helping to balance the American league.

Officers Speaker Job.

Connie Mack will offer Speaker a job on the Athletics when he meets Tris by appointment in Philadelphia Saturday morning.

4—The Yankees will take one or the other of the unattached stars if no other American league club can make the salary grade, Colonel Ruppert said tonight. The idea is not to let Ty and Tris escape to the National League.

5—if either comes to New York, it

Dr. D. W. Daniel, of Clemson, Humorist and Orator, Will Be Principal Speaker Tonight.

Hearing of Offer of One Bidder Closed and That of American Cyanamid Company Is Started.

Washington, January 27.—(AP)—The conference report on radio control legislation was submitted to the house today and probably will be voted upon Saturday. It is expected to come up in the senate early next week.

More than 500 acceptances of invitations to the annual meeting and dinner of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce tonight indicate that the affair will be one of the most interesting in the 61 years' history of the organization.

Two dining rooms in the chamber of commerce building, the second and ground floor rooms, will be used and the big second floor lobby will be cleared of desks to make room for dining tables.

In the ground floor dining room guests will hear an address by Dr. D. W. Daniel, of Clemson college, famous as an orator and humorist. His address at the chamber of commerce several years ago was such a success that he was invited again this year. The official program will be carried out on the second floor. The same musical program will be given in each dining room.

Special pains are being taken this year to make the dining room attractive. Under direction of Virgil W. Shepard the house will be decorated with smilax and cut flowers.

Certificates of distinguished achievement will be presented to Mrs. Harriet Y. High, Thomas K. Glenn and Ivan Allard, former presidents of the past year. W. B. Hoffman, retiring president, will report on his administration and George W. West, the new president, will deliver his inaugural address.

During the delay, he said, the government was selling power to the Alabama Power company, "at the lowest rate in the world."

The dinner will begin at 6:30 o'clock and the program will be concluded by 9 o'clock.

It Is Worth A Trial

Some people say that two can live as cheaply as one, while others say it can't be done. Well, it's worth the effort, and if it can be done it will be the result of very judicious buying on the part of the woman—who does 95% of the purchasing.

So, if any of you "heads of the family" want your wives to try it out be careful to see that they receive The Constitution regularly every morning.

The Constitution carries advertisements with the best offerings of the merchants of Atlanta, and it arrives at the home in the morning when the woman of the home has time to read and study the advertising.

These women who have formed the custom of reading the advertisements in The Constitution every morning are always informed of the best bargains that are being offered, and as a result they buy judiciously and economically.

Coroner's Inquest Will Be Held After Coffey Guides Officers to Grave of Victim.

Platteville, Wis., January 27.—(By the Associated Press)—William N. Coffey, 51-year-old bigamist and slayer of his wife, Mrs. Hattie Hale Coffey, 53, arrived here tonight a few hours after farmer found the torso of a woman in a woods where Coffey confessed he buried the dismembered parts of his wife's body.

A coroner's inquest will convene tomorrow, authorities indicated, after Coffey is taken into the woods to point out where he buried the remaining portions of the woman's body, and which will give the state its evidence to substantiate charges of murder, for which a life prison sentence is provided.

Discovery of the torso of the woman resulted from the gathering of a curious crowd residing near Ritters Woods tonight, and when Frank Olson, farmer, stumbled into a mound of earth which was soon cleared away baring a gunny sack and its contents.

Action Is Postponed.

Coffey, at the time of the discovery was en route to Platteville from Mauston in the custody of a sheriff and attorneys. They requested authorities here to postpone any action tonight of a contemplated coroner's inquest until they arrived. They had planned to have Coffey show them where he buried the woman whom he says he killed by accidentally striking her with a baseball bat and then cut up her body.

The fragment of the body found tonight will not be examined by a coroner's jury until tomorrow.

Examination of the sack by Judge Lewis and Dr. Carl Andrew, revealed it contained part of a human torso from the first rib to the thigh and part of the abdomen, the organs of which the doctor said were those of a woman.

With Sick Woman's Head.

Authorities indicated they would continue their search tomorrow for the head of the woman, in hope that it would enable them to establish corpus delicti.

"When I buried the head," his confession says, "I tamped down the earth with a handle of a spade. Maybe I hit her with the handle of the bat." Identification of the fractures would prove sufficient to warrant murder charges, officers said, should Coffey refuse to aid in the identification.

Another section of his confession says:

"As I sat there with parts of the dismembered body about me I suffered much. I loved this woman. Nothing would bring her back. If it had been in Iowa, I would hang, but it was in Grant county, Wisconsin."

Proposals Intended To Satisfy Chinese and To Placate Liberal Opposition at Home.

DIFFICULTY LIES

Eventual Surrender of British Concessions and Extraterritoriality Rights Believed Included.

London, January 27.—(AP)—Great Britain is about to offer to China what are described as "generous" terms, to end if possible the serious situation, with its grave possibilities, that has arisen in the Far East.

The British press and public anxiously await official publication of the proposals, but up to the present the ministers content themselves with repeating inaccurate versions of alleged terms published in the foreign press and at the same time asserting that the terms, when made public will be found to be generous.

Cancellation Seen.

The impression drawn from the ministerial hints is that while the proposals may not go far enough to satisfy the government's liberal and labor critics, they will prove too conciliatory to please the ultra-conservative supporters of the government and the British business communities in China.

Though it is understood that the terms will provide for the eventual cancellation of British concessions in China, including extra-territorial rights, nothing has been allowed to leak out concerning a question, which is vastly more important, namely, what are the guarantees that will be required from China and in what way does the government propose to get over the difficulty that there is no single, united body in China at present by which such guarantees could be extended.

It is generally assumed that the government, in drafting its proposals, has looked beyond existing difficulties to something which will provide a real and a satisfactory basis for trading on a permanent basis.

General Terms.

L. C. M. Amer, secretary of the colonial department, in a speech at Kilmarnock tonight, said that when the terms were published it would be found that the modifications proposed necessary in order to supply all communities now dependent on antiquated methods of lighting was made possible Thursday when the Georgia public service commission granted permission for the consolidation. The decision followed a two-day public hearing.

The body will be taken to his boyhood home in Paris, Tenn., tomorrow for burial. A final funeral service will be held here.

Born in Bolivar, Hardman's country, Tennessee, he spent his farm of his father. While still a boy he was employed in a drug store at Paris, Tenn., and when 22 years old purchased it from Dr. Caldwell. For years he operated the place as Grove's Pharmacy.

After three weeks he came here from Philadelphia, where he had been under treatment. For a few days he stayed at a sanatorium in New York, but then he came here looking for a "free and disengaged China."

At the state department peaceful overtures to meet the swelling demands in China for equal footing with her world neighbors advanced a step. Secretary Kellogg is prepared to open negotiations for immediate Chinese customs autonomy and ultimate abandonment of all American extraterritorial rights with delegates named by leaders of the two great warring groups in China, the Cantonese of the south and the forces of Chang Tsung Lin, northern war lord dominating the Peking government. He is waiting on proposals for such conferences.

Whether he will supplement the open invitation with direct diplomatic efforts to bring about such a meeting if the Chinese factions themselves fail to avail themselves of his offer has not been disclosed.

Forces Stand Ready.

Pending the outcome of the American gesture of friendship and sympathy with China, American naval forces still stand ready to protect American lives and property at Shanghai. Mr. Kellogg refused again to disclose what cooperation with British, French or other foreign forces might be expected if landing operations became necessary. He is leaving Admiral Williams to meet emergencies that may confront him unembarrassed by any premature disclosure of the orders he has received.

That the Washington government hopes that its peaceful gesture, founded upon the traditional demand of the United States that China does not bar away her birthright of sovereignty in giving up extraterritorial rights or monopolies to foreign governments or to their nationals but retain an open commercial door to all, may avert the serious situation impending.

Senator Questions Whether Kellogg Goes Far Enough in Making for "Free China."

Washington, January 27.—(AP)—The wide door opened by Secretary Kellogg to orderly steps for giving China her place in the sun of diplomatic equality among the nations brought a chorus of approval today, at home and abroad.

The single voice raised in congress in direct criticism questioned merely whether Mr. Kellogg had gone far enough. Senator Borah, foreign relations committee chairman, breaking his silence on China, declared for an American policy in the far east looking to "a free and disengaged China."

At the state department peaceful overtures to meet the swelling demands in China for equal footing with her world neighbors advanced a step. Secretary Kellogg is prepared to open negotiations for immediate Chinese customs autonomy and ultimate abandonment of all American extraterritorial rights with delegates named by leaders of the two great warring groups in China, the Cantonese of the south and the forces of Chang Tsung Lin, northern war lord dominating the Peking government. BOARD APPROVES

Public Service Commission Sees Benefit to Georgia Public in Proposed Power Merger.

DEATH TOLL SEVEN IN CHAPEL BLAST

The death toll following the explosion in the community hall here Wednesday night was increased to seven Thursday when a third son of James T. McCann, janitor of the hall, died from burns and shock.

In addition to the dead, nearly a score were injured seriously, as a result of the explosion of acetone cans which wrecked the Methodist chapel while a basketball game was in progress.

Upward of 200 persons had assembled in the one-story frame building used as a church by the latter-day Saints congregation for a game between the Turner and Central, Idaho, teams. Shortly after play started the lighting system failed, and witnesses said some one lighted a match. A terrific explosion followed, wrecking the rear wall.

BOARD APPROVES UTILITIES MERGER

Atkinson stated that the electric company stockholders are to receive more than the market value of their holdings out of the merger.

Jack C. Spaulding, Robert Alston, W. H. Colquitt, James E. Shumate, of Atlanta, and Roland Ellis, of Macon, represented the company.

Public Benefits.

"The first great public benefit the merger will bring," said Mr. Atkinson, "will be financial. The new company which will take over the several companies will have a greatly improved financial structure. Their enabling is to finance its operations a great deal easier and at considerably less cost. It will have one issue of bonds secured by a modern mortgage with unlimited future possibilities of raising capital as the business expands and the service increases."

It will also have a first preferred stock issue which will be the main source of raising money in the future. This plan as compared with the complicated financial plans of the several separate companies is simplicity itself.

"Under this plan we can almost look forward to a period when the company will be entirely self-financing."

The financial possibilities of the present companies are exhausted. We have reached the end of our rope.

Up to now we have provided for raising the ten million dollars in bonds which will be needed each year, it would be fatal to the company as well as fatal to the future growth of Georgia.

Already Expanding.

Mr. Atkinson declared that the need for extending power to all parts of Georgia has become so great that the company already had begun expansion.

He showed that two years ago he traveled on the railroad lines of the northwestern part of the state, where as today its lines extended over approximately three-fourths of the state.

He said this was just an example of what would be done under the consolidation.

He also declared that he believed that the preferred stock of the company could be largely marketed in Georgia. This would be another public service, he said, as it would encourage investment among the residents of the state.

"The industrial benefit which will be brought out," he continued, "will be in the decentralization of industry in the state. We know that for the last two generations the population has been moving steadily toward the cities. With the extension of electric light and power lines, thereby scattering industries to all parts of the state, this movement will be checked."

Help to Agriculture.

Mr. Atkinson described the greatest possible benefit to the public in the proposed consolidation as the help to agricultural conditions in the state.

"I'm sure," said Mr. Atkinson, "that the reorganization of our agriculture in Georgia will enable us to increase our production, power and efficiency in the farms."

The trouble now is, industry and agriculture are out of adjustment. In the past 30 years industry using machinery and power has increased its man output 35 times. It is hard to estimate the increase in man output on the farms, but it is very low.

"It isn't of so much concern whether cotton sells for 14 or 16 cents per pound, but in the efficient producing of agricultural products, all we have been assured through sufficient production but agriculture is not on an efficient production basis. Agriculture is forced to pay the very highest price for its material and labor and thereby has a high cost of production. With the introduction of power, this cost could be remedied and until it is remedied agriculture never will be on an efficient low cost production basis."

British Express Approval.

British approach to Secretary Kellogg's announced policy was only expressed by Ambassador Howard, who called today at the state department, but also was reflected in press dispatches from London. An information that Japan's rumored neutrality equality proposals came from London.

Character Testimony.

Efforts of defense attorneys late Wednesday afternoon to have written into the evidence testimony of the effects of fire made the defense had a remission of violence were apparently nullified Thursday morning when court reconvened for its second day's session. Judge Moore ruled that only such evidence would be admissible as bore on the direct issues of the case. Following the argument of defense attorneys, however, the bench ruled that evidence showing the character of the dead man, of Mrs. Chappell, and of Mrs. Mary Thompson, his daughter, would be admissible.

Testimony of defense attorneys presented that the wife committed suicide of the dead man for violence. Taking of testimony was frequently interrupted by arguments of attorneys which necessitated removal of the jury from the courtroom.

Assistant Solicitor General Ed A. Stephens is prosecuting the case for the state and is being assisted by Assistant Solicitor John H. Hudson. The law firm of Branch and Howard represents the defendant.

Up over the old caravan route, less than 200 miles south of Shanghai, the forces of the Cantonese government are marching.

Cantonese troops are conservative, estimated to number 250,000 but what portion of that army has been massed in Chekiang is not known.

Troops Number 250,000.

To the north, troops giving alarm at the moment at least to Chang Tao-Lin are estimated to aggregate perhaps 380,000. Their advance guard is at Hankow, westward of the Chinese sun. Between Hangchow, southern outpost city for Shanghai, and the advancing Cantonese are strung the troops of the Shanghai dictator allied with Chang, who has been weeks in the interior, having deposed to the Cantonese.

Shanghai, rich with direct and indirect sources of possible military revenue, is the prize. That its possession will be surrendered by the northerners without battle is the conjecture of the Cantonese dictators.

Senators Borah deplored the possible disastrous result of British military intervention in China by Americans in China by their withdrawal until all danger of molestation had passed. There is no question that administration plans have considered that course only to insure that landing marines to guard the harbor would be necessary to insure protection of their lives. Already the missionaries in the interior are filtering out to coastal cities by direction of American consuls.

Secretary Kellogg's statement is considered to express much the same knowledge of what stops each government is taking other than the announced military movements of the British, it has not revealed its intention. It was reiterated today, however, that the British government is going to negotiate new treaties with China either in conjunction with other western powers or alone, as China herself may elect if a Chinese delegation can be named with which Washington can deal without violation of neutrality as between the warring factions in China.

British Welcome U. S. VIEWS.

London, January 27.—(AP)—The British foreign office welcomes the views on China expressed by the United States government as an example of the best kind of cooperation, namely, cooperation in dependence on formal agreements but on a common attitude toward a great problem.

SIDES FORMING IN SCHOOL FIGHT

At least five members of city council will join Monday week in asking a change in the city charter which would abolish the Atlanta board of education and place supervision of Atlanta's 60 odd schools under the direction of the mayor and general council.

This was the outgrowth of an announcement made Wednesday by Councilman Ellin B. Barrett, of the fifth ward, that he will offer a resolution to this effect. It also was suggested by Mayor Constance J. E. Bowden, of the fifth, will be joint author of the measure. The legislature will be asked to allow the change and strong pressure will be brought to bear on the proposal, it was said.

Thus the school board has been thrown into a fight for its very existence or if it should be on the board, like the question of the fifth, will be the center of a fusillade of fire from its enemies. There are, however, many staunch supporters of the present board in council, and the proposal probably will be the most important committee to come before the legislature at its biennial meeting this summer.

It is understood that a concerted move to have the matter referred to voters of the city in a city-wide referendum will be made, despite the fight against the board. These two forces are destined to clash at the councilmanic session, and the outcome is difficult to predict.

In addition to Mr. Barrett and Mr. Bowden, Councilmen A. J. Orr, chairman of the finance committee of city council; Leo Sudderth, chairman of the tax committee, and John A.

APPEAL ON BOND CASE SUBMITTED

New Orleans, La., Jan. 27.—(AP)—The appeal of Thomas H. Brady, of California, from the decision of Federal Judge Samuel H. Sibley, at Atlanta, dismissing his suit for injunction to restrain the city of Atlanta from issuing portions of an $8,000,000 bond issue, was submitted today in the United States circuit court of appeals here.

His appeal was presented by George C. Spence, of Spence & Spence, Atlanta attorneys. James L. Mayson, city attorney of Atlanta, presented supporting argument for Judge Sibley's dismissal of the suit.

Brady, who claims federal jurisdiction because of his residence in California, had attacked the validation of the bonds, submitting his suit first in Fulton county superior court. In his federal suit he attacked the constitutionality of the whole issue.

On the appeal from Judge Sibley's decision the procedure on bond issues in Georgia and cotton marketing agencies court judges an action of injunction which he alleged, the Georgia judiciary does not possess.

Brady is a property owner on Pryor street, Atlanta, which is intended to be the location of the McNary-Haugen bill meeting before the senate and the house of representatives and declare that it is our judgment that no other bill now before congress will meet the needs of the cotton growers as is provided in the McNary-Haugen bill.

Disagreed With Sapiro.

We asked whether the address made by Mr. Sapiro before the school of cooperative marketing held at the Georgia State College of Agriculture endorsing the Crisp bill does not represent the views of the cotton cooperatives and we call upon our members in agreement to call upon the supporters of the McNary-Haugen bill as the one solution of the farm surplus problem which has brought such havoc to cotton prices during the past few months.

Mr. Sapiro spoke before the 20th annual conference of farmers at the State College of Agriculture here.

The McNary-Haugen bill might possibly be of benefit to the wheat farmers of the country, but it couldn't possibly be of any material aid to the cotton growers under present surplus conditions," he said.

"The Crisp bill carries greater possibilities for the southern farmer, but the problem will never be solved by legislation, but through the organization of the farmer and the proper marketing of their products."

High Interest Rate.

Mr. Sapiro said that the production credit system employed in the south, where the farmers, especially those of the tenant class, are charged high rates of interest by small bankers, and the attitude of many members of cooperative marketing organizations are making more difficult the work of the south than anything else.

He said that in some states farmers are being charged from 20 to 26 per cent interest on farm production loans for about five months use of borrowed money.

"No industry can thrive under such a burden of debt," he said.

Control of the relationship of supply to demand is the object of the cooperative organization.

"It is simply an adjustment, the controlling of the flow of demand."

"Cotton producers can gain this control by uniting instead of leaving it to Wall street and Liverpool by organizing Commodity organization and not group organization will solve this distressing problem," he said.

W. C. Bewley, of Macon, attorney for the Georgia Peach Growers' Exchange, told the farmers conference that first general rules must be observed if the peach crop controls will be successful.

Growers must first eliminate all trees that are diseased; eliminate all orchards made up of old trees; pull up certain varieties of peach north of Macon, where these varieties will not bear fruit.

Mr. Evans is survived by three sons, Major J. G. Evans, of Jonesboro; C. T. Evans, of Mountain View, and J. J. Evans, of Atlanta; one sister, Mrs. Jane Chapp, of Walnut Grove, Ga.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon, with interment in the Jonesboro cemetery.

JAMES F. EVANS DIES AT JONESBORO HOME

Jonesboro, Ga., January 27.—(Special) James F. Evans, 54, pioneer citizen and father of Mayor J. G. Evans, died suddenly here tonight. He was a native of Rockdale county, but had been a citizen of Jonesboro for 35 years. He was a member of the Methodist church.

Mr. Evans is survived by three sons, Major J. G. Evans, of Jonesboro; C. T. Evans, of Mountain View, and J. J. Evans, of Atlanta; one sister, Mrs. Jane Chapp, of Walnut Grove, Ga.

SAPIRO RAPPED BY COTTON BODY

Athens, Ga., January 27.—(AP)—Aaron Sapiro, general counsel of the American Cotton Growers' exchange, was held, in a resolution adopted by the executive committee of the organization here, not to have representation in view of his attack on the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill and partially endorsed the Crisp bill in an address earlier in the day to the Georgia school of cooperative marketing board.

The executive committee, parent organization of cotton cooperative marketing associations in 12 states which is meeting here in connection with the cooperative school this week, reaffirmed its stand in defense of the McNary-Haugen measure and declared Sapiro's views were directly opposed to those of the cotton cooperatives on the Crisp proposal.

The committee announced that the resolution was passed with only one vote against it, that of Mr. Sapiro, representative of the Georgia Cotton Growers' Cooperative Association. All of the state associations were represented except Texas, which was added.

The resolution follows:

"Whereas it is the sense of the managers of all of the state cotton grower cooperative associations in regular monthly meetings assembled that we reaffirm our unqualified endorsement of the principles of the McNary-Haugen bill now before the senate and the house of representatives and declare that it is our judgment that no other bill now before congress will meet the needs of the cotton growers as is provided in the McNary-Haugen bill.

Disagreed With Sapiro.

We further declare that the address made by Mr. Sapiro before the school of cooperative marketing held at the Georgia State College of Agriculture endorsing the Crisp bill does not represent the views of the cotton cooperatives and we call upon our members in agreement to call upon the supporters of the McNary-Haugen bill as the one solution of the farm surplus problem which has brought such havoc to cotton prices during the past few months.

Dividend of $10 Per Share on 10,700 Shares Declared at Annual Meeting of Stockholders Here.

Alfred E. Kelley and O. R. Randall have been reelected to the office of president and senior vice president and general manager, respectively, of the NuGrape Company of America and will continue to direct this nationally known Atlanta corporation during the current year, it was announced Thursday following the annual meeting of stockholders.

The NuGrape Company has just concluded the most successful year in its history with sales showing a large increase over the previous twelve months, the secretary and treasurer's report showed. A dividend of $10 a share on the 10,700 shares of common stock outstanding was declared and an extensive program of expansion into new markets, authorized for 1927.

The NuGrape Company of America is the second largest manufacturer of a five-cent bottled beverage in the world and now has almost a thousand dealers throughout the United States, branch manufacturing plants located in Baltimore, Jacksonville, Little Rock, Chicago, Kansas City, Dallas and Los Angeles. General offices of the company are in Atlanta.

A complete list of newly elected officers and directors for 1927 as announced includes Alfred E. Kelley, president; O. R. Randall, vice president and general manager; H. R. Todd, vice president; E. S. Morris, vice president; K. K. Kelley, vice president; E. A. Randall, vice president; H. B. Nicholson, secretary and attorney, and W. C. Miller, assistant secretary and auditor.

Decatur Committee To Rush Hotel Work; Theater To Be Erected

Decatur, Ga., January 27.—(Special)—Action to speed up the erection of the Decatur community hotel was taken here tonight when the board of directors of the hotel company named a building committee from members of the directorate, this committee to have complete charge of erection of the building.

The committee is composed of Walter T. Candler, chairman; R. C. Henderson, Leon O'Neal and George W. Woods. Mr. Candler is also president of the hotel company.

It was stated tonight that plans to begin work on the hotel, which is to cost approximately $200,000 and be erected at the northwest corner of Church street and Ponce de Leon avenue, will be rushed.

It was also stated tonight that work on a modern moving picture theater and two stores will be started here Friday morning by H. J. Carr and Company, contractors for Walter T. Candler, who will erect the building on the site of the old brick theater which is to be demolished. The theater will be erected on the lot adjoining the hotel site, which is also owned by Mr. Candler, and will conform in architecture to the hotel, it is stated. Work is to be rushed on the theater, Mr. Carr stated.

It was also stated tonight that the committee, which is to be responsible for the erection of the theater, will be rushed on the theater, Mr. Carr stated.

It was also stated tonight that the Dial Twister is leading a mighty easy life since he began using this Brunswick Panatope to radio the air waves. He doesn't have to worry about tuning controls, retests, tone volume or anything else. In fact, the outfit is so far advanced it doesn't even have to be cranked.

Feature the Dial Twister, if you can comfortably ensconced in an easy chair parked up alongside this remarkable musical creation with a perfunctory Radiola Superheterodyne on the left and the Panatope to the right, by operating through the marvelous sound reproducer incorporated in the machine.

Heretofore, when there was as much static rambant as there was Thursday night, the Dial Twister had to twist his knobs and turn that knob, in order to bring in decent reception. Thursday night, all he had to do was to shut off the Radiola and turn to the Panatope. That's the life. Here he is, a "tired business man," in search of peace and quiet. (Sounds good doesn't it?) Such a thing, however, is not possible to attain when receptive conditions are marred by static or other interference when one employs a radio receiving set to the exclusion of everything else.

Radio Without Static.

But the Panatope at one's right hand, it is an absolute necessity to have all the advantages of radio with out the static for practically every radio star to whom we have listened in the past has a record or two on the matter.

We hadn't any more than reached the office early Thursday, when Harry West, of the Elvex Talking Machine company, distributors of Victor records, bobbed into the office with a package under his arm. It didn't look much like a bottle so we entered directly into a conversation.

"Now listen to me, young man," said he, addressing the Dial Twister, "you said something about records in your 'colum' this a. m., and if that's what you want, take these home and play them on your Panatope which ought to be a Victoria combination."

New Records.

The conversation was of some duration—on his part, for he is a good

MORTGAGE BOND FIRM IN REPORT

Indications of unusual prosperity are seen in the annual reports Thursday of officers of the Mortgage Bond and Trust company in meetings of the directors and stockholders. Assets of the company have increased at the rate of a million dollars a year since 1924.

Business of the concern, according to the report of C. J. Lewis, president, increased 25 per cent. during 1926 over 1925, while the business established 12 years ago, has paid 8 per cent dividends every year with growing surplus.

Directors commented favorably upon the fact that no bonds are on hand all having been sold. Commissioners of the company will take care of all bonds created between now and April, President Lewis said. "There is more demand now for bonds than we can supply, and Atlanta's needs during 1927 can adequately be taken care of," he declared.

Loans Sought.

Investment banks, according to Mr. Lewis, say that loans on Atlanta

Georgia Safety Contest Victors Are Announced

State winners in the national safety campaign contests, sponsored by the highway education board, have been announced by Fort E. Land, state superintendent of schools.

Essays on state and highway safety by elementary school pupils, lesson plans on safety by teachers of elementary schools and certificates of merit for conspicuous achievements in safety by school systems were the outstanding features of the Georgia contest, Mr. Land said.

In the essay division, Alfred Jackson, of Hogville school, won first prize, a gold medal and a scholarship for one year. Charles M. Jerome, Jr., of the Manchester schools, won second prize, a silver medal and $10.

The Monroe Junior High school, scoring 304 safety points, was the only school in the state to receive a certificate of merit.

Under the superintendence of C. W. Reid, in the same system, Mrs.

Charles E. Chick and Miss Utah

Hughes won honorable mention for lesson plans on highway safety. Miss Sara Roberts and Eva Garrett, also of Monroe, received bronze medals and $5 each.

Miss Inez Woody, of Fairview school in Carroll county; Miss Dorothy Keefer, of Manchester, and Miss Betty Norris, of Hogville, also won bronze medals and $5 each.

COMPLETE EXONERATION.

The complete exoneration of Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker by Commissioner Landis was expected.They were charged by one "Dutch" Leonard, a discharged Detroit player, with "throwing" a game in 1919 to make good on bets.Nobody believed a word of the charge. In Georgia, Cobb's home state, the indignation was without bounds. Thousands of telegrams and expressions poured in upon him, not only from his own people, but from every walk of life from every section of America.Judge Landis not only exonerated the two famous baseball stars, and restored them to their respective rosters, but declared "these players have not been found guilty, or are they guilty of framing a ball game."There is no equivocation or side-stepping in that verdict. He also revealed that both players had voluntarily retired from their positions while the charges were under investigation.The multitudes of ball fans, and personal admirers of the exonerated men, will be deeply gratified—not alone that every possible suspicion has been removed, but that this manufacturing of a sordidly designed "scandal"—as sorry a piece of business as ever came out of a jealous, vengeful heart—will clarify baseball atmosphere, and serve as a deterrent against such contemptible efforts in the future.

LYMAN J. GAGE.

The death at his California home of Lyman J. Gage, at the ripe old age of 91, takes to the other shores
one of the most outstanding figures in America's financial and public life for half a century. It also accentuates again the success that may be attained by one of humble origin provided the will and the character coordinate with a normal brain to build—never content with standing still.When 24 years of age Lyman Gage moved to Chicago from his New York home and accepted a position as a bank auditor. In the east he had before that time been an office boy, messenger and bookkeeper. In a little more than a year he was elected to the presidency of the First National bank of that great, throbong central western metropoli-on. In that city as financier, civic worker, political leader, and dependable man of affairs who was as responsible as tireless, he attained national fame. He was called to the secretaryship of the treasury by President McKinley, and subsequently reappointed to the same cabinet position under President Roosevelt.His greatest public service, perhaps, was the floating of the federal bond issue of $200,000,000 at the beginning of the Spanish-American war at the very nominal interest rate of 3 per cent.For the past five years Mr. Gage, to his advanced age, had lived in close retirement, but always in low touch with a circle of close friends. He was a member of an American party of distinguished men to visit Japan in 1920—a monument of the marvelous physical and mental capacities he retained
most until the end.

OUR POLICY AS TO CHINA.

The protection of Americans and their properties, wherever they may be, is a fundamental obligation of his government. Therefore there can be no criticism of the administration's policy, as thus far explained and developed, in the Chinese situation. Secretary Kellogg has made it plain that the activity of the United States goes to that extent and no further, while explaining also that this government"has watched with sympathetic interest the nationalistic awakening in the east."The statement of the secretary that this government is ready to negotiate with China, either singly or jointly with other powers, for the restoration to China of tariff autonomy, and for the abolition of extraterritoriality, is most gratifying.The fact that China has been so ruthlessly exploited by other powers, particularly Great Britain and Japan, coupled with the disclosure of the existence of a three-power compact for the "protection" of mutual interests there, has necessarily led to apprehension, accentuated by the very evident—and to a degree alarming—tendency of this government toward imperialism. The official statement of the secretary of state, therefore, is as heartening as can be.

BY JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

New York, January 27.—Midtown,

New York, where the hotels and theaters are clusters of tall people, dry are an army of men and women who are "going" anywhere." They walk the streets leisurely with no apparent reason for being there. So far as may be judged by their attitude, their gait, they have no objective, no business on which they're bent. They're drifters, pausing at the least provocation to bestow a comment on any trivial sight or scene that promises interest for a minute or two.The majority of these drifters are young men, well dressed for the most part, well fed and to all outward appearance, comfortable set beyond the line of "fancy." You'll find them sunning all afternoon in Broadway coffee houses, looking dreamily out at the rain, window shopping on the sunny side of the avenue on cool mornings or seated comfortably in the movie or vaudeville theaters with not a thing on their minds worth mentioning.
How they subsist is a puzzle. What endeavor, mental or physical, they translate into gain is a mystery.America should keep out of the British-Chinese dispute except in the direct protection of nationals.And that should not be permitted to cloak and shroud other motives.

GREAT TRIBUTE TO STANTON.

Under the caption "Taps for the Sweet Singer of the South" the Literary Digest of January 29, on sale throughout the country today, devotes two full pages to the life and works of the late Frank L. Stanton, of The Constitution. It is a just and worthy appreciation of the great character in American literature who recently passed on to join his old friends, Riley and Fields and Harris and Grady and others in the land of thornless roses. In the Digest's review are printed some of Mr. Stanton's most outstanding poems, including his lyrics that reached the highest peak of human idealism, his philosophy in dialect, his wit and humor as illustrated best in his famous work "When the Little Boy Ran Away."If the day happens to be particularly cold and the workmen start a fire beside the excavation, the drifters regard that as that of a gale event, and swarm in from all quarters.I've seen a newsdealer on a windy corner start a blaze in an empty trash can and five well-dressed men standing around staring idly at the flames and blinking in the smoke.A mob of 500 men and women were milling on the sidewalk in front of a vacant Eighth avenue shop the other day. Two policemen with drawn clubs hurried from opposite corners and charged the crowd, expecting to encounter a riot.What they did find was this: A wee bit of a mouse had cornered a crust of bread and was wrestling with it in the shop window and the drifters, hurrying in from all points of the compass, not only blocked traffic but nearly precipitated a riot.Follow-master is the most popular woman in the Town of Queen Personages. If the man in front does it, the man behind just naturally follows suit.One morning coming across City Hall park I observed a number of persons on their way to work, with slackened pace, staring up at the Woolworth building. The Woolworth building is a cloud-kissed gem, "like a diamond in the sky." A Wop window cleaner perched on a sill was fulfilling his duty with chamois and wool.Eight hours later at dusk was setting over the city, blurring the angular edges of the skyscrapers. I retraced my steps across City Hall park. The army of window cleaners had bound-headed toward the subway still with slackened pace, were staring up toward the top of the giant structure.Hours before the window cleaner completed his task or devoting his attention to panes on another face of the building, had disappeared from the view of those in the park below. But the crowd stared. They had found something strange when they arrived on the scene, so they stared, too. They didn't know what they were staring at but they stared because if there really were anything to see, they didn't want to miss it."What's the matter?" one starer would ask another."Search me, brother," the other would retort, and then both would aim point their tonsils to the open sky.Night put a merciful end to the stare.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

Leon

Daudet.

The turbulent French royalist leader, who comes out occasionally with the most sensational editorials on the Action Francaise and who is often ridiculed, is, notwithstanding his infatuation with the politics of contemporary France. Moreover, he is an indefatigable worker: two articles per day, two books per year, has been a long-sustained record. A conversation with the man in his study, which is lined from top to ceiling with books, shows a totally different Daudet than often pictured in the republican press. He is numbered in the classics, but he knows the moderns
as thoroughly. Not only the monarchs of France, but those of England and America, the Russians, the Italians
and the Spaniards, are in their original language. One finds it said that the European spirit cultivates itself
in international milieus, but Leon Daudet, perhaps the most notorious revolutionary in Europe, is the most magnificent sample of a European:
a man whose head and spirit understand "au fond" half a dozen civilizations. It is not the same as a contemporary of Victor Hugo or Robert de Rozier.The editor, and Senator Maurras, his companion, have both been the recipients of a special benediction sent by the pope's predecessor. Hence, the paper repeats today Martin Luther's old phrase: "The pope has been misinformed. We must inform the pope better." *

The Marshals.

We had an occasion recently to see five of the six marshals of France as they emerged from the Madeleine church after attending a mass for the first victims of poison gas. Papa Joffre was the only one absent, on account of his age. He is numbered in
the classics, but he knows the moderns
as thoroughly. Not only the monarchs of France, but those of England and America, the Russians, the Italians
and the Spaniards, are in their original language. One finds it said that the European spirit cultivates itself
in international milieus, but Leon Daudet, perhaps the most notorious revolutionary in Europe, is the most magnificent sample of a European:
a man whose head and spirit understand "au fond" half a dozen civilizations. It is not the same as a contemporary of Victor Hugo or Robert de Rozier.

Tension.

Tevere, one of the most rabid fascist sheets in Rome, is seeking against the vatican a very significant occurrence which will bring about a rapprochement between church and state. The vatican approves the peace-maneuvers of Briand and Stresemann, but the papal representatives are not yet satisfied.What is the result of the saying of Goethe? "Wer segnet den Berg, kann den Berg nicht holen." That is I travel.

SOMETHING ABOUT JEWS.

The cleverest fighting animals are not necessarily those of greatest bulk, but the elephant, the fox and the wolverine.In certain respects hunted animals resemble the history of the Jews, in all hands and in all centuries.What has all this to do with animals that escape the trap, for example the wolverine?

Mussolini's Philosophy of Life

BY GEORGE SYLVESTER VIERECK.

"To Me, Violence Is Fundamentally Moral," Mussolini Says. "No Forward Step in Political Evolution Possible Without Victims."

"It seems to me," I remarked, "that fascism is as revolutionary in its way as bolshevism."

"Right you are," Mussolini fired back at me. "Italy had the choice between bolshevism and fascism. It chose fascism. Of course, fascism brings innovations. Woe to the revolution that doesn't. Those who have been entrusted by destiny with the conduct of a revolution may be liked to those generals who have had command over an army in war. Revolution and war are two words that in a sense go together."

"War determines the course of a revolution unless a revolution brings on war. The strategy of both has much alike. As in war, so in a revolution, it is not invariably the case that things are carried by direct assault."

"Sometimes, in the course of a revolution, it becomes necessary to beat a strategic retreat. Sometimes it becomes imperative to pause long upon the points of vantage already won."

The goal is this: Government.

"The foundation of the city, the establishment of the colony, the inauguration of an empire—these are the prodigies of the spirit of man."

"And a government is not territorial merely. It may be the government of an empire that is economic or political or spiritual."

"It is an ancient adage," the duce continued, "that every people has the government it deserves. A government is a mirror in which the people must see reflected their own poverty and their own capacity. It is the duty of a government to last, but it is even more the duty of a government to make itself respected."

Bolshevism Theoretical.

"Russia, as an experiment in communism, is interesting. But the forces of violence must be wielded by those competent to guide the experiment. Violence is the normal life of communism. The fact that violence is insatiable on the basis of its lofty motive renders it indispensable that those who use violence be guided by lofty morality."

STATE PURCHASING OFFICE IS URGED

A movement looking to establishment of a centralized purchasing department for the state is again underway by Governor Walker.

In a letter to State Auditor Sam J. State, Governor Walker has requested an immediate inventory of all contemplated purchases of departments in the capital and coal requirements of various state institutions for the current year.

never by interested calculations of personal satisfaction. Violence should be avoided in all dealings with the innocent and with the upright, with the merely ignorant or the merely fanatical.

"What of the crimes of violence attributed to the fascists?"

"No forward step in political evolution is possible without sacrifices and victims. It also involves certain errors. Such errors, if they have been committed, do not reflect on the fundamental principles of fascism. An occasional act of cruelty cannot be avoided in even the holiest crusade."

"The fascists are called black-shirted. but believe me, they are not black-hearted. The black shirt cannot be worn legitimately by anyone who has not given his life to the cause."

"There are," I said, "rumors of dissension in your own ranks. Is that the penalty you pay for practically displacing all other parties?"

"There are no dissensions. We believe in discipline. We apply this discipline not only to others, but also to ourselves. Never in the party of the fascists more granite-like is its solidarity or more harmonious in its single-mindedness than it is today and today it is a unit."

"Is it not," I asked, thinking of the six would-be assassins who had damaged our committee, "the life of Mussolini, that they cannot translate an idea into a reality? The strong are those who do as well as dream."

"When," the duce continued, with quiet emphasis, "two elements are contending and prove in conflict that they are irreconcilable, the only way out is to fight."

Victims Inevitable.

"To me violence is fundamentally moral. But the forces of violence must be wielded by those competent to guide the experiment. Violence is the normal life of communism. The fact that violence is insatiable on the basis of its lofty motive renders it indispensable that those who use violence be guided by lofty morality."

The chief executive stated that when the legislature had under consideration establishment of the department of public works, it was urged that a great force that this department could and would lay the foundation for a purchasing department which would result in the saving of many thousands of dollars annually to the state.

"I was myself, in accord with those views, and urged them before the legislature," the governor said.

"Conforming to the spirit of those representations, you are respectfully requested to collect the information set out below, to wit:

"The requirements of the several departments of state in the capital of all purchases for the current year including stationery and office supplies. Please add to the department to supply the quality preferred, as it is my purpose that the departments shall be supplied with the grade of material best suited for their particular use."

"The quantities and grades of each necessary for the current year for the use of all of the institutions of the state."

CAPITAL CITY CLUB MEMBERS TO MEET

Improvements at the Capital City club and the building of a new country clubhouse at Brookhaven will be principal topics for discussion at the annual meeting of members of the Capital City Club Tuesday night, February 1, at 6:30 o'clock at the city clubhouse.

A new clubhouse at Brookhaven has been discussed by officials of the club for some time, but no definite action has been taken. It was said yesterday that the entire meeting next Tuesday night will be devoted to an open discussion of the proposed new building.

Officers and members of the governing board will be nominated at the annual meeting.

A buffet supper will be served in the ballroom for members of the club.

Varied Assortment Of Goods Bought For Use of City

Two hundred cars of coal, four trucks, five automobiles, 20,000 feet of water pipe, two cars of asphalt, 50 water hydrants and 75 large valves were among the items purchased Thursday by the purchasing committee of city council. These totaled more than $75,000 and made the largest authorization thus far this year. Alderman Claude E. Buchanan, chairman presided.

The coal will be used at city-owned buildings on the waterworks, parks, asphalt and four of the automobiles, by the construction department; the piping, hydrants and valves, in the waterworks department, and one of the automobiles by William Johnson, city warden.

DUST EXPLOSION DANGER TUESDAY

Dust explosions in manufacturing plants, which have caused millions of dollars in losses through fire, will be demonstrated by special apparatus today morning at the chamber of commerce by W. M. Newell, United States bureau of chemistry.

The meeting will be sponsored by the chamber in cooperation with W. M. Hunsaker, secretary of the Cotton Seed Growers Association of Georgia. Invitations have been sent to several hundred manufacturers and others interested and the meeting will be open to the public.

Mr. Noel, representing the bureau of chemistry, is making a special study of the possibility of dust explosions in cotton seed oil mills. Such an explosion in Memphis last spring killed and injured a number of men and caused a loss of $150,000.

Explosion of dust in coal mines, flour mills and other industries are more or less common. It is stated, however, that the first instance of an explosion from dust arising in cotton seed oil manufacture occurred in 1915.

Approval was voted to plans for a dinner-dance to be held at the Biltmore hotel on February 21.

SCHOOL OF ORATORY CLUB NAMES LEADERS

The speakers' club of the Atlanta School of Oratory, recently re-elected W. H. Meacham, president for the ensuing term, at a recent meeting in Wesley Memorial church building.

Other officers elected are: Dr. Robert Latte, secretary; L. R. Melliss and Miss Lucy Zachary, first and second vice presidents.

FALSE FIRE ALARM ORIGINATORS FINED

Fines aggregating $202 and three suspended sentences of 30 days each are the result of efforts of Atlanta police and fire department to prevent false fire alarms being turned in.

Those persons who have been apprehended and fined for turning in the alarms are James Albert, Arthur Bates and G. C. Thompson.

KLINE IS HONORED BY BIG STORE HERE

Raymond A. Kline, executive vice president of R. H. Macy & Co., Inc., and representative of the New York interests in the organization of Davison-Paxton-Stokes company, has been elected director of the local store. Colonel F. J. Paxton, secretary and treasurer, announced Thursday following a meeting of stockholders.

Mr. Kline has been identified with the Atlanta store for more than 18 months, and it is hoped that he will become permanent resident of this city, Colonel Paxton said.

Mr. Kline is a nationally-known merchandising expert and has appeared before a number of local civic organizations in talks on merchandising subjects.

Plans of the department store here are open the new building at Peachtree and Ellis streets during March. Colonel Paxton said. Work is being rushed to completion and the building will be finished within the very near future.

JANUARY BUILDING PERMITS NEARING $1,000,000 MARK

Building permits totaling approximately $400,000 were issued Thursday from the office of Building Inspector J. E. Bowen, pushing the total for the month to about $50,000 under $1,000,000.

One of the permits called for expenditure of $80,000 for a new addition to the new First Christian church.

Peachtree street and another for an outlay of $140,000 for the new Pullman company plant.

MAGRAW REELECTED UTILITIES CHAIRMAN

L. A. Magraw, of Macon, was reelected for the third term as chairman of the Utilities Information Committee of Georgia, at a meeting of the directors of that body held at Atlanta. Willard Cope, Atlanta, was reelected secretary, and Channing Cope reelected director of the speakers' bureau and director of field work.

Aid in rehabilitating farming conditions in Georgia will be one of the specific features of the program of the committee for the year. The committee, representing the leading public utilities of the state, and speakers stressed the vital necessity of co-operation of all agencies in the state toward improving farm conditions.

Time cannot harm these fine writing instruments

Guaranteed is the Sheaffer pen for a lifetime. But what is infinitely more important, it is guaranteed to be a superlatively fine writing instrument always. It is not merely guaranteed against imperfections, but to work, and to work well, for a lifetime—with no charge for repairs, if ever needed. The white-dotted Sheaffer pen will withstand any sort of hard usage. With its Radite barrel and its infallible nib, it is as tenacious as it is beautiful. But first and always, it is a dependable performer.

INSTALLMENT V.
BLACK VEILS.

Today the heads in the scenario department were as bent as usual, but no page turned. Nor were the readers lending so much as a blade ear to the campaign for reaching above and beyond. Beneath their business-like absorption their real business this morning lay in weaving a passion of sulks into black veils, within which they ostentatiously wrapped themselves round and round as within cocoons.

The round, brown and ever-observing eyes of Mr. Horner took in the cocoons. Well, he thought, and that they were really little candles burning on the altar! With an air of deep thought he put one hand over his face, the bubbling up of his dimples on a shy grin being thus artfully obscured. Quickly and firmly his sore spirit whispered that this was about the jolliest, most consoling morning he'd even seen hung out. "Long may it wave!" But can I let it?"

Before, however, he could think up any tactful way to begin hauling down the flag fragments of a piercing whistle in the silence.

"I'll tell your girl goodby for you. The whistle was approaching. The nerves of the scenario department tightened.

Her kiss.

Her kiss.

Her kisses come too high.

I'll tell your girl goodby.

The cocoons thickened up blacker and blacker, bristling like a dog that doesn't quite dare to snap. For Lyman, instead of going round to the door, frequently entered his father's office by the short cut of the scenario department. But now the whistle did pass through the main door and was drowned in the doting whine of the father emitted at sight of his cub.

Lyman had now for his father. But he certainly didn't intend showing it away without a stage being set for it. If Fate would only show a little tact some first-class power might call up, requesting an interview, then Lyman could reply that Mr. Hertzog and Mr. Leland had been in agreement. Meanwhile, Lyman merely allowed a subtle briskness to betray that he had a loaded revolver in his pocket and was only awaiting a suitable moment to fire.

Mr. Hertzog's forehead had begun to flush and breaker with one of his now habitual headaches; he became petulant under the strain of waiting to be shot at and started poking out his under lip. Lyman, who knew storm signals when he saw them, pulled up a chair confidentially and, his finger on the trigger, took aim. "You haven't asked me what Dulcie wanted,"

"Why should I prevent you should burst if you want to?" acridly inquired Mr. Hertzog. "It's trouble she wants, that's sure. Maybe it's that St. I should be here, but I'll get it over here on the lot for atmosphere. Or it's Mr. Bernard Shaw I should persuade he's to do the continuity next. Or should I engage Charlie Chaplin, maybe, to jump the hounds? her circus?" "Well, I'll find it in her contract how I got to do it!"

Lyman, ignoring frivolities, leaned close. Scowling into his father's face, he pulled the trigger. "She wants Leland to go back on the screen, but isn't enough he's come to be the biggest director in town? salary—she wants him to act again. She wants him for her leading man!"

As a target, Mr. Hertzog was unsatisfactory. He showed no hole in the bull's eye. After calm meditation he replied: "You mean she wants him for that symphony heavy in 'Passion's Pride'." Is it in her contract she's got the choice of her company?"

"No, papa, that's where we've got her. She has her choice of stories, but not of actors."

"So!" cogitated Mr. Hertzog. "It cheers my feelings. Lyman, we at last found something she hasn't got in her contract. I thought we got even to carry an orange grove around her,

Circus Ball Will Assemble Society in Charity's Name

For sweet charity's sake will society assemble this evening at the call of the Debutante club of 1926-27 at the elaborate circus ball which will be staged at the Atlanta Biltmore.

Gipsy fortune tellers, pirates, Indians, clowns, ballet dancers, bareback riders and cowboys will mingle on the sawdust-strewn floor of the Georgian ballroom, where the main circus tent will be raised. Various forms of entertainment, novel and elaborate in detail, have been planned for the pleasure of the several hundred members of Atlanta's younger set who will attend the brilliant affair.

The grillroom of the hotel will represent a smaller circus tent and there during the evening will be served pink lemonade, popcorn, peanuts, candies, cakes and other good things that are typical of the sawdust ring.

The tickets are $3.50 per couple or stag and may be purchased from any member of the club or may be bought at the gate. The ball is the annual charity entertainment given by the debutantes, the proceeds going this year to the Atlanta Child's home, which the 1926-27 club sponsors.

Pyorrhoea penalizes 4 out of every 5

What a grim penalty Pyorrhoea exacts for neglect! It spreads its poison through the system, undermines health, destroys precious youth. And four persons out of every five after forty (and thousands younger) get caught in its relentless grip.

But you need never fear Pyorrhoea. Go to your dentist at least twice a year. And start using Forhan's for the Gums.

Used regularly and in time, Forhan's prevents Pyorrhoea or checks its vicious course. It firms the gums and keeps them healthy. It protects teeth and keeps them white.

It is the formula of R. J. Forhan, D. D. S., and contains Forhan's Pyorrhoea Liquid, used by dentists everywhere.

Safeguard your health! Start using Forhan's regularly morning and night. Teach your children the same good habit. Play safe—get a tube today. At all druggists', 35¢ and 60¢.

Forhan's for the gums

MORE THAN A TOOTH PASTE... IT CHECKS PYORRHEA

You can be sure of this

Thousands are keeping breath sweet and fresh this new way. We promise you'll never go back to ordinary mouthwashes again. They only conceal unpleasant breath with embarrassing odors of their own after you have used Forhan's Antiseptic Refreshant. Try it.

Miss Battey Gives Tea at Biltmore For Mr. Blackmer

Miss Adrienne Battey entertained at an informal tea Thursday afternoon at the Biltmore, in compliment to Sidney Blackmer, a co-star of the company presenting "Love-in-a-Mist" at the Erlanger this week.

A group of Mr. Blackmer's former friends who met him when he spent several months in Atlanta as a leading man in a summer stock engagement, were among those present. Special guests at the tea were Miss Madge Kennedy, feminine star of the "Love-in-a-Mist" production, and Ellis Baker, leading lady of the Forsyth play.

The Drama League of Atlanta will entertain on Friday afternoon at the Woman's club, the honor guests of the occasion being Miss Kennedy and Mr. Blackmer.

The officers of the league will assist Mrs. Ten Eyck Brown, the president, in entertaining.

The officers to be elected Friday, chosen from the membership of the board, will be the president, first and second vice presidents, treasurer, recording and corresponding secretaries. The retiring officers of the association are Mrs. W. V. R. Prescott, president; Mrs. S. F. Boyce, first vice president; Mrs. R. J. Bates, treasurer; Mrs. E. K. Large, recording secretary; Mrs. Charles E. Freeman, corresponding secretary.

Immediately after the meeting of the directors, the regular monthly meeting of the sub-committee takes place, conducted by Mrs. Emmett Quinn, chairman. The program for this meeting will be a continuation of the job analysis of the work of the industrial secretary and of the committee, started at an earlier meeting. The program for Friday has been planned by Mrs. C. Howard Aikens, a member of the committee. All members of the board of directors are invited to this meeting, and luncheon will be served after the discussion.

PERSONAL BONE DRY OFFICIALS DEMANDED

Washington, January 27.—(AP)—Reiterating its faith in national prohibition as the most efficient method of dealing with liquor traffic and demanding that public officials who have sworn loyalty to the constitution be held to a strict personal observance of the 18th amendment, the National Woman's Christian Temperance union, today closed its mid-winter conference.

Mrs. Ella A. Boole, president of the organization, pronounced the conference a success, forward in the work of rousing the nation to a sense of greater responsibility to the government in its efforts to promote observance and enforcement of prohibition.

Delegates to the conference were received by President Coolidge at the white house at noon, and tonight members of congress, government officials and others were guests of honor at a banquet attended by more than 800 men and women.

A broad appeal was made today for a local observance of prohibition legislation and called for stricter penalties for violations.

Society leaders, metropolitan papers, magazine editors and movie producers were invited to the platform to join in stigmatizing as "bad form" the flouting of the constitution.

Speakers at the closing session included Senator Capper of Kansas, and Representatives Cranston of Michigan, and Stalker of New York.

With Bond Posted in New York, New Lien Is Filed.

New York, January 27.—Seven hundred thousand dollars worth of Liberty bonds have brought liberty to Charlie Chaplin from the legal and financial entanglements resulting indirectly from his wife's divorce suit.

All the outstanding government income tax liens against the film comedian and his properties are said to have been satisfied by the $700,000 bond which Chaplin succeeded in raising Thursday afternoon.

Although almost simultaneously with the posting of the bond here another lien for $536,360.69 was filed against Chaplin in Los Angeles, his New York attorneys said that the new would be covered by the surety posted in New York.

Out of the income tax ticket for the first time in more than two weeks, Chaplin is now free to go ahead with making his latest picture, the filming of which he had delayed. His New York attorneys said that the new would be covered by the surety posted in New York.

LEWIS FORCES WIN CONVENTION FIGHT

Indianapolis, January 27.—(AP)—Stubborn opposition to a constitutional amendment giving the executive committee authority to levy special assessments without a referendum retarded progress in the United Mine Workers convention today. The amendment finally was approved after the opposition failed by three votes to obtain a roll call. Opponents polled 441 votes, three less than the necessary 450 per cent.

The Lewis-Brophy feature flamed again today when sergeants at arms attempted to seat Powers Haggard, 27, Harvard graduate, to represent a local at Cresson, Pa. John L. Lewis, president of the miners, had denied Haggard's right to speak in favor of a resolution condemning the Mine Workers Journal. Lewis declared Haggard not a delegate and later threatened to eject Haggard, and said he was not even a member of the union.

He also asserted that the public commerce commission for what he charged was "favoritism to the railroads and non-union coal fields of West Virginia, Virginia, Tennessee and Kentucky," in freight rates. Government officials are participating in a movement to restore the former privileges for the non-union coal fields of these states, Lewis asserted.

STATE DETECTIVE GIVES TESTIMONY
IN AIKEN LYNCHING

Aiken, S.C., January 27.—(AP)—W. W. Rogers, state detective, who was put on the trail of the Aiken lynchers by Governor McLeod last fall, today reviewed before the county grand jury the evidence he has obtained in connection with the deaths of Bertie Dennis and Charles Lomax, negroes, who were taken out of the county jail and shot to death near here on October 8.

Rogers was the third witness to testify today, and the 12th since the grand jury met yesterday morning under a charge from Judge J. Henry Jones that "this is a time for action" in the state's investigation of the triple lynching. The two others of the day were Austin H. Johnson, state agent at Warrenton, and Murray Craig, farmer of near Aiken.

Representative Elliott, republican, chairman of the house public buildings committee, which is now preparing a bill for projects under the $165,000,000 authorized last session, said he would like to see the postoffice department will be carried out practically as they stand, which means that Atlanta would not be cared for.

Dr. Hardman Elected
President of Georgia Jersey Cattle Club

Athens, Ga., January 27.—(Special)—With renewed interest in live stock, the state reorganization of the Georgia Jersey Cattle association was perfected here today with the election of Dr. L. G. Hardman, governor-elect of Georgia, as president, together with other officers and directors. The meeting was held at Hardman hall, and was attended by 200 Jersey cattle breeders whose keen interest in the matter of reorganization of the club was taken as an indication that this popular breed of dairy cattle is due to receive more attention in Georgia during the next few years than ever before.

Other officers elected at the meeting were R. W. Harvey, Thomasville, president; F. W. Fitch, Atlanta, second vice president; F. W. Fitch, Athens, secretary-treasurer.

The board of directors includes Austin Barnett, Washington; Henry Odum Covington, Columbus; W. W. Stark, of Conyers; W. C. Russel, of Dalton; and P. C. Cooley, of Augusta; R. L. Southwell, Tifton; J. B. Hardin, Commerce; E. O. Cahill, Macon; J. H. Hooks, Warthen, and C. I. Mahon, Madison.

The last two days were spent on one case after a jury was drawn. J. W. Morris, of Statesboro, was soon disillusioned and thought he would soon feel better. During the two days and nights the jury was held together not worse and had considerable fever, but stayed with the other jurors. After making a verdict Thursday morning and being dismissed, he went to a doctor, who told him he had a fully developed case of smallpox.

The other 11 jurors are hurriedly being vaccinated. Smallpox is in some sections of the county.

Jefferson Citizens Ask Rate Change

The state public service commission Thursday heard a petition filed by citizens of Jefferson, Ga., asking for a revision of electric light and power rates in that place charged by the Jefferson Electric company. The petition was presented by W. H. Epps, former mayor of Jefferson. The commission took the case under advisement and will announce its decision later.

CONVICT INJURED IN FREAK ACCIDENT
IN CLAYTON COUNTY

Hapeville, Ga., January 27.—(Special)—Homer Smith, who is serving a life sentence in Clayton county chain-gangs for the murder of Herman Trammell, was seriously hurt while at work on the road near Jonesboro, yesterday.

While in the act of removing a heavy stone by means of a crowbar, a tractor used in the work was backed against the stone, causing the bar to fly up striking Smith in the head, and fracturing his skull.

He was rushed to the Davis-Fischer sanatorium in Atlanta, where he is dangerously ill from the blow.

Smith was convicted of the murder of Herman Trammell in the Clayton county superior court about two years ago, and was given a life sentence. He was also indicted on a charge of killing Pete Trammell, father of Herman Trammell. This indictment still stands against him in Clayton county court.

SENATE AWAITS
ATLANTA FIGHT
FOR POST OFFICE

Washington, January 27.—(Special)—Indications that some buildings will oppose the public buildings bill providing an additional appropriation of $160,000,000 to carry out the program because the south did not receive the consideration it expected under the $165,000,000 bill passed last year, was seen in a threat by Senator Key Pittman of Nevada, that he will oppose the new measure unless the treasury changed its attitude.

It will be recalled that Senator George, of Georgia, declined recently upon failure to provide for a new post office at Atlanta in the $165,000,000 authorization that the buildings would be placed mainly in doubtful states.

Cochrane Harper, of A.U., reports his men in good condition, and showed up well in practice Thursday. Both coaches are confident of victory.

The only question at present is that of the date.

Jim Maloney's injured hand permits him to return to the team.

He will be executing during the first five days of the tournament.

Singleton and company will put up a hard fight to hold on to third place.

Otherwise, the date originally fixed for the Delaney-Maloneay bout—February 18—stands, Rickard said.

Maloney injured his hand in a bout with Tiny Herman, of Portland, Friday night, and this necessitated postponement of his proposed fight with Rickard.

Maloney and fight officials wanted to postpone the bout until February 12, but Rickard said he would not consent to this, as the date was too close to that already fixed for Maloney's fight with Delaney.

Tiny Herman, in case the Maloneay fight is postponed, can be arranged for February 7 to postpone the Delaney affair one week.

Commercial Union vs. Insurance Company of North America, 8:30.

Miami, Fla., January 27.—(AP)—Two

New Yorkers will clash here tomorrow for championship honors in the annual Glenn Curtiss golf tournament over the Municipal course.

Captain H. C. C. Tippett, of the Gulf Golf club in the metropolitan area, will play the other end of the line by eliminating Charles Culbom, Birmingham, medalist in the qualifying rounds and winner of last year's tournament, five and three.

Tippett went out in 37, one over par, and was two up at the turn.

He increased his lead early on the incoming round and returned in another 37, three strokes under his opponent.

C. A. Roberts, of the New York City Golf club, remained in the race by defeating H. G. Baylor, Chicago, five and four.

Roberts was never in any difficulties throughout the match.

will be Speaker, for the optimist who can picture Cobb and Babe Ruth along with a club managed by Miller Huggins has yet to be found.

Either Cobb or Speaker may go to the White Sox, Charley Comiskey having a little spare change to help Ray Schalk buy a new star if Ray needs one.

Cobb and Speaker may change clubs. Ty going to the Indians and Tris to the Tigers, thus giving the fans of those cities something for their money.

It is considered certain that Ty and Tris will not stand upon the dignities of their new found exonerations and demand that they be permitted to play with their own clubs. Probably Judge Landis explained the situation to them before he handed out the whitewash.

Speaker has several offers. He left Atlanta yesterday night for conference with Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Senators. Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators, has offered him a job. There will probably be others. However, unless he wants to take an outfit field on the club he managed last year, Cleveland will be without the services of Speaker.

"I was innocent; I knew that vindication would come; I knew that Judge Landis would give me justice."

Thus did "Ty" Cobb, America's baseball idol, comment Thursday night upon the decision of Judge K. M. Landis, vindicating Cobb and "Tris". Speaker of charged made against them by the American League, however, had claimed that he had conspired to "fix" a ball game in September, 1919. Cobb is hunting at Georgetown. The Georgia Peach said he intended playing baseball this summer, but said he was unable to state at this time which club he would be affiliated with.

Cobb's statement was made at the home of Tom Yawkey, here, where he is a guest. Cobb and Yawkey start on a four-day hunting trip near Georgetown Friday.

"This trip will be my first step toward getting my condition in shape for spring training," announced the veteran. "When I return I'll complete my plans for the summer."

NEW YORK
WANTS TY AND TRIS.

New York January 27.—(P)—New York baseball fans today viewed the possibility of Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker being sought by one or all of the three Metropolitan clubs, the Giants, Yankees and Robins, as a consequence of their vindication by Commissioner Landis.

The Giants were told by Landis to "let off" Cobb when they first sought his services, prior to publication of "Dutch" Leonard's charges. In the absence of Manager John McGraw, who is in Havana, Secretary Jim Tiersley declined to say whether proposals to the Georgian and the narrow business manager of the Yankees, said the arrival of Manager Miller Huggins would be awaited before the club decides to seek either Cobb or Speaker.

NEWS TO ME,
SAYS MACK.

Philadelphia, Pa., January 27.—(P)—"It's me," said Connie Mack, when informed that Tris Speaker was coming to Philadelphia to discuss signing with the Philadelphia Athletics.

Speaker had accepted an invitation to attend the annual new year's Saturday night of the veterans' athletic association, and it is believed that the purpose of his visit here has been confirmed.

CLOUDS OF GUILT ARE REMOVED.

Chicago, January 27.—(P)—The cloud of suspicion that engulfed Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker, two of the greatest outfields of all time, was swept away today.

The two stars were found not guilty by Kenneth C. Leonard, baseball commissioner, of fixing a game in 1919 as charged by Hubert (Dutch) Leonard, one-time Tiger pitcher. Landis completely exonerated them and restored them to good standing.

By the ruling Cobb was placed on the reserve list of the Detroit club, while Speaker joined the Cleveland club. They have the same standing in baseball today as the other players on those clubs. The management of those clubs may now deal with Cobb and Speaker in the same manner as any others on the lists.

They may offer them contracts to continue in baseball or they may ask waivers and by obtaining them de-

WEST ENDERS ARE TUMBLED BY ALL SAINTS

All Saints shone in all departments in giving the undefeated West End Presbyterian five its first beating Thursday night, 18 to 7. H. Smith's 10 points gave Third Baptist a close win over the hard-fighting F. E. F. class in a hectic battle, 20 to 18. The Baptist team included Anchor Feids, 19 to 16; Reid, Rose and O'Toole all starred in First Methodist's 29 to 15 victory over Confederate Avenue. These four games closed the first round of play in the Second League of the "Y" Church Athletic Association.

The fire representing All Saints completely outclassed the West End Presbyterians. The winners were on their toes at all times and Speer and Hudson did good work in shooting. The losers were off in their shooting. Times up with points.

In the last minute, H. Smith rung the bell for Third Baptist to defeat F. E. F. class. The tilt was very fast and close at all times, the winners leading by one point at the half, 8 to 7. Both teams played exceptionally clean. H. Smith was shooting and getting the winners up 10 points. For F. E. F. also played well. Langston did some nice guarding for the losers.

The Anchor Feids showed more scoring power in the last half to win the fast and small Boothian five in a wide way. Playing alone, J. Wilkins had eight of his 11 points in the final period. Reeves was the high man for the losers and rang up 10 points besides playing a nice floor game. Abernathy in addition to his close guarding turned in six points for the winners.

Reeves, O'Toole and Reid shared equally in First Methodist's win over Confederate Avenue in the opening tilt. Lindsey played a good defensive game besides ringing up 7 points.

St. Paul girls were not able to hold the Capitol View ladies when the latter won 20 to 22. Kirkwood girls added the Grant Park team to their list of victims, 12 to 8.

The best game of the evening was played by the St. Paul and Capitol View boys' outfits. This struggle was as hard fought as any that has ever been played on the school floor. It was a toss-up until the last six minutes of play when the losing side became peeved with the tactics of the opponents and retaliated to such an extent that they forgot all about their team work.

In the last six minutes St. Paul came to life and ran up a very costly forfeit lead. During this rally the Capitol View outfit fell down with their coordination and never again during the game were dangerous. The fourth game was forfeited.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

TRAPPED IN THE FIRE ENGINE HOUSE AT HARPER'S FERRY, VIRGINIA (OCT. 16, 1859), WHILE ON A RAID TO LIBERATE SLAVES, JOHN BROWN, MILITANT ABOLITIONIST, AND HIS FOLLOWERS DEFENDED THEMSELVES DESPERATELY.

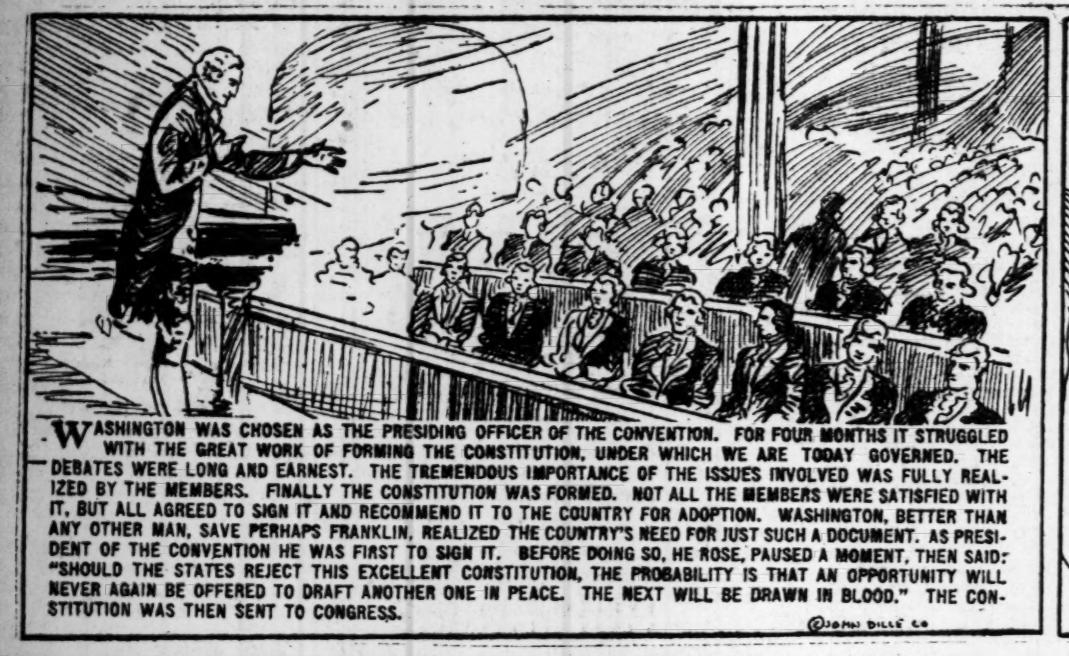

THE NUMBER OF ARMED CITIZENS BESIEGING THE FIRE ENGINE HOUSE INCREASED HOURLY, AND NEIGHBORING MILITIA COMPANIES CAME TO AID THE CIVILIANS. THE SIEGE LASTED FOR TWENTY-FOUR HOURS.

WHEN NEWS OF THE RAID REACHED WASHINGTON, A DETACHMENT OF U. S. MARINES WAS RUSHED TO THE SCENE. THE NATIONAL TROOPS, LED BY COL. ROBERT E. LEE AND LIEUT. J. E. B. STUART, STORMED "BROWN'S FORT" AT DAWN ON OCTOBER 18.

BROWN AND A FEW SURVIVING FOLLOWERS WERE CAPTURED AND LOCKED UP IN THE COUNTY JAIL AT CHARLESTOWN TO AWAIT TRIAL. AMONG THOSE KILLED IN THE RAID WERE TWO SONS OF THE LEADER.

TOMORROW—THE TRIAL OF JOHN BROWN.

MEN WHO MADE THE WORLD

WASHINGTON WAS CHOSEN AS THE PRESIDING OFFICER OF THE CONVENTION. FOR FOUR MONTHS IT STRUGGLED WITH THE GREAT WORK OF FORMING THE CONSTITUTION, UNDER WHICH WE ARE TODAY GOVERNED. DEBATES WERE LONG AND EARNEST. THE TREMENDOUS IMPORTANCE OF THE ISSUES INVOLVED WAS FULLY REALIZED BY THE MEMBERS. FINALLY THE CONSTITUTION WAS FORMED. NOT ALL THE MEMBERS WERE SATISFIED WITH IT, BUT ALL AGREED TO SIGN IT AND RECOMMENDED TO THE COUNTRY FOR ADOPTION. WASHINGTON, BETTER THAN ANY OTHER MAN, SEEKS PERHAPS FRANKLIN, REALIZED THE COUNTRY'S NEED FOR JUST SUCH A DOCUMENT. AS PRESIDENT OF THE CONVENTION HE WAS FIRST TO SIGN IT. BEFORE DOING SO, HE ROSE, PAUSED A MOMENT, THEN SAID: "SHOULD THE STATES REJECT THIS EXCELLENT CONSTITUTION, THE PROBABILITY IS THAT AN OPPORTUNITY WILL NEVER AGAIN BE OFFERED TO DRAFT ANOTHER ONE IN PEACE. THE NEXT WILL BE DRAWN IN BLOOD." THE CONSTITUTION WAS THEN SENT TO CONGRESS.

George Washington

By DR. ELLIOTT SHORING, NOTED HISTORIAN

ALEXANDER HAMILTON, ONE OF THE MOST DISTINGUISHED ADVOCATES OF THE CONSTITUTION, WROTE TO HIS OLD COMMANDER REGARDING THE QUESTION OF THE PRESIDENCY AS FOLLOWS:

"I take it for granted, sir, you have concluded to comply with what will, no doubt, be the general call of your country, in relation to the new government. You will permit me to say that it is indispensable you should lend yourself to the first operations. It is to little purpose to have introduced a system if the weightiest influence is not given to its firm establishment in the outset."

WHICH WAS BY NO MEANS ELATED AT THE PROSPECT OF BEING HIS COUNTRY'S FIRST PRESIDENT. WHILE HE WAS ONLY 57 YEARS OF AGE, HIS HARD LIFE AS A SOLDIER HAD WEAKENED HIS CONSTITUTION AND THE ANXIETIES AND CARES TO WHICH HE HAD BEEN SUBJECTED DURING THE WAR HAD MADE HIM FEEL OLDER THAN HE REALLY WAS. THERE WAS, HOWEVER, NO DOUBT ABOUT THE PEOPLE'S CHOICE. A UNANIMOUS VOTE WAS CAST FOR GEORGE WASHINGTON TO BE THE FIRST PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

(To be cont'd.)

AT THE THEATERS

Erlanger Next Week.

Plan Exclusive Hotel for Women In Heart of City of "The Pelican," the play by H. M. Harwood and F. Tennyson Jesse, now at the Rialto theater with Alma Rubens.

In this gripping drama of mother love she is given the opportunity to run the gamut of emotional acting as she strives to prove her versatility as an actress with her characterization of the girl.

RAILROAD SCHEDULES

Palace Theater.

"The Sea Beast"—Playing its last

times today at the Palace theater is "The Sea Beast," starring John Barrymore, star of stage and screen.

The story was adapted from the novel, "Moby Dick," Bolores Costello is seen in support of Barrymore.

Tenth Street Theater.

"The Sea Beast"—Playing its last

times today at the Tenth Street theater is "The Sea Beast," starring John Barrymore, star of stage and screen.

The story was adapted from the novel, "Moby Dick," Bolores Costello is seen in support of Barrymore.

West End Theater.

"The Duchess of Buffalo," which is about as nonsensical as its title and thoroughly as comical, is playing again this evening at the West End theater.

The story is an original one and is said to be of unusual merit, a big cast supports Constance Talmadge, who will have next week Colleen Moore in "Twinklettes."

Fairfax Theater.

"The Man in the Saddle," Hoot Hoot, is later in season, playing its last times today at the Fairfax theater is East Point. Hoot is at the height of his ability in "The Man in the Saddle," and the result is to make this picture one of his best.

The Tudor.

"Senor Daredevil," now showing at the Tudor, is the first screen offering of the new western star, Ken Maynard, whose ability as an actor and as a rider, fast pushing him to the front ranks of western screen stars.

— "Senor Daredevil" is a fast moving story of hard border life and whose exploits win him the name of "Senor Daredevil."

COAL

Best Suited for Cook Stoves

Some coals are better adapted for cooking use than others, and best results are obtained when the right coal is used.

We recommend "Creech" Coal because it has high gas content, burns freely, can be started with newspaper kindling, and makes a very hot fire.

"Creech" is also ideal coal for grate use.

LOCAL BASE HOSPITAL ENLARGEMENT SURE

Enlargement of United States Base Hospital No. 48, located near Oglethorpe university on Peachtree road, from its present 70-bed capacity to 400 beds, is assured by favorable consideration by the congressional committee following a recent hearing, according to a letter received Thursday, by Gen. R. Bell, commander of Post No. 100, Veterans of Foreign Wars, from Edwin S. Bettelheim, Jr., chairman of the legislative committee of the organization.

In addition to receiving favorable consideration at the hands of the congressional committee, the bill will be placed on the preferred list for funds when appropriations are made, the agreement of Director General

General Hines, in Atlanta, was secured to inspect the hospital and at that time was impressed with the need for larger quarters and more beds, and later recommended the enlargement.

Gen. George J. Johnson is surgeon in charge of the base hospital, and has under his direction a capable staff of medical and surgical men, who care for disabled war veterans.

General Hines, in Atlanta, was secured to inspect the hospital and at that time was impressed with the need for larger quarters and more beds, and later recommended the enlargement.
